Safety comes first at Loxford Polyclinic where Polysafe Vogue Ultra PUR was installed in many of the communal areas to offer first-class slip resistance and easy cleanability. Loxford Polyclinic was opened by NHS Redbridge as the first healthcare facility of its kind in London delivering accessible health services outside of hospital to the local community.

Vogue Ultra PUR conforms to the required European Norm for safety flooring and achieves slip resistance test results in-line with HSE Guidelines. Offering a sustainable slip resistant surface that gives underfoot safety in areas where slip hazards may occur, Vogue Ultra's cleanability is enhanced thanks to the incorporation of a specially cross-linked Polysafe™ PUR reinforcement.

"We have managed to create a bright and attractive environment where people can easily access healthcare within their community. Polyflor was able to offer the right balance of safe, slip resistant flooring and quality aesthetics that meets the needs and expectations of our staff and our patients."
